PLAN TO ABOLISH THE STATE LAND OFFICE AND REVISE THE STATE CIVIL SERVICE LAW

DAHL SUGGESTS IMPORTANT MOVE

STATE TREASURER SAYS CASTLE'S JOB IS USELESS

BIG EXPENSE TO BE SAVED

WORK CAN BE DONE AT BIG SAVING TO STATE

TO CUT OUT COURT TRIAL

VIROQUA OFFICIAL SAYS DISCHARGE PLAN IS BAD

FREAR AGREES WITH HIM

Officials Should Not Be Haled Into Court by Incompetents Discharged by Them

(By Fred L. Holmes.)

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—State Treasurer A. H. Dahl in his report to the governor recommends that the land office be abolished and that the work of this department be placed under the supervision of the state treasurer. For fifteen years past B. J. Castle acted as chief clerk of this office and his resignation last August to make a political campaign brought to the notice of the land commissioners—secretary of state, state treasurer and attorney general—that this work might be accomplished with less labor and expense if supervised or annexed to another department.

The biennial report of the commissioners just made public suggests that the work might be placed either with the state department or with the forestry commission. A least he legislaure will be asked to abolish the office.

Should Be Annexed.

"No appointment has been made to fill this vacancy and the work of the office has been promptly and carefully attended to by the remaining two employes in that office," says the state treasurer's report made public today inspeaking of the resignation of Mr. Castle. "All the cash transactions of that office are done with the state treasurer; a large part of the interest on state lands are sent directly to this office; many of the inquiries with regard to that office are directed to this office—in fact the work of the two departments are so closely associated that I would recommend that the land office be abolished and the work placed under the supervision of the state treasurer."

In his report the state treasurer declares that in any event the "work of that office can be carried on with two men as at present, and the state can thus save the salary of the chief clerk, namely $1,800 per year, also $260 stenographer's fees and other expenses connected with a separate department and besides, furnish the state with large office rooms for the use of some of the over-crowded departments. This can be accomplished without any detriment whatever to the efficiency of the department."

To Change Civil Service Rule.

That material changes may be made in the civil service law at the next session of the legislature is indicated in the report of Mr. Dahl, and also that of Secretary of State James A. Frear. Mr. Frear declared that the clause in the civil service law compelling a state officer to defend his action in court before a petit jury if a discharged employe contested his removal, was "absurd." Mr. Dahl in his report declares this feature of the merit law "has a tendency to disrupt the dicipline of the office."

Treasurer Dahl recommends to the governor that the law be changed "so as to allow the heads of departments to discharge employes for any cause other than religious and political without having to furnish proof to a court or jury."

Right to Jury Trial.

"Our courts have held that a discharged employe has the right to a trial by jury," says the state treasurer in his report, which is a departure from the previous publications of this department, in that it discusses in detail the affairs of administration. "The head of a department who finds an employe in his department who is insubordinate, incompetent, dishonest, unfaithful or a drunkard, cannot under the construction of the civil service law, discharge such employe without being compelled to go into court and prove his case to the satisfaction of a jury of twelve men. He must produce witnesses, books and documents as the case requires, hire his own at-

HAAS A SUICIDE, RUEF CASE PROCEEDS TODAY

Francis J. Heney, Wounded Prosecutor, and Chief of Police Biggy, Who May be Removed from Office for Malfeasance.

MYSTERY IN THUG HAVING A PISTOL

SECURED WEAPON IN JAIL AND ENDED LIFE

REUF MAY PLEAD GUILTY

Has Lost His Nerve—Chief Biggy May Lose Job as Result of His Conduc

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—The bullet was removed from Heney's neck, the operation being successful. His condition at 11 o'clock was greatly improved and he is practically out of danger.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Morris Haas, would-be assassin of Prosecutor Francis J. Heney, committed suicide Saturday evening by shooting himself to death in his prison cell.

Mystery surrounds the manner in which he secured the pistol. He was carefully searched, and Capt. Kelley said yesterday he believes the weapon was concealed in his clothing. Careful investigation seems to refute this theory, as it shows the impossibility of the man carrying the weapon without detection.

Heney, who is now out of danger, regrets the death of Haas. "We could have secured valuable information from him," he said.

Heney Spirit Prevails.

The indomiable spirit of Heney prevails in the court room at the trial of Abe Ruef. When the case was resumed today, a cordon of police separated the spectators from the judge, jury and counsel. Attorney Matt Sullivan, J. J. Dwyer and Hiram Johnson, composing a brilliant array of counsel that stepped into the breach caused by the shooting of the prosecutor, exerted a wholesome influence on the state of mind of the audience.

Ruef May Plead Guilty.

Simultaneously with the resumption of the trial this morning, conflicting rumors concerning the future course of the prisoner at the bar became current in the court room. The report of a contemplated plea of guilty by Ruef's counsel imploring the mercy of the court, was unconfirmed. No act of the counsel can be interpreted indicating such a move. It is known, however, that Ruef is in a desperate state of mind, and his demeanor today lacked the usual confidence. His firm step and smiling countenance is giving way to a slinking gait and an undoubtable expression of fear. Attorney Frank B. Dozier, associate counsel for the prisoner, has fastened the hope of bringing the trial to an end with a plea to the court setting forth that the jury, after

MR. PATRICK MUST REMAIN IN PRISON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — The United States supreme court dismissed the appeal of Albert T. Patrick, the murderer of Wm. Marsh Rice. It dismissed the appeal on a writ of habeas corpus.

Patrick, who is now serving a life term in Sing Sing, for killing Millionaire Rice, appealed to the supreme court on the ground that his punishment had been "increased because life imprisonment was substituted for the death penalty." Today's action is believed to be his last hope for freedom unless the governor grants a pardon.

QUIGLEY TALKS OF NEW PROPAGANDA OF ROMAN CHURCH

ARCHBISHOP ABLY DISCUSSES AMERICAN SITUATION

GREAT THRONG AT OPENING

Two Thousand Delegates Take Part in First Great Missionary Gathering

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Archbishop Quigley, in the opening address to the First American Catholic Missionary congress today, declared that the church of America is beginning a new era, and the congress gives occasion to study its duties and responsibilities as an hierarchical unity, and the national church in closer intimacy of government, association and affection with himself and the church universal, to which he had been advanced by the sovereign pontiff. He referred to its excellent organization and its plans for the new propaganda. He mentioned the results of the Sacred Congregation De Propaganda Fide, the oldest missionary organization in the world. He referred to the United States' growth in the past hundred years, and the missionary activity due to the Propaganda Fide.

Nearly 2,000 delegates were at the opening at 10 o'clock today of the first session of the First American Catholic Missionary congress. Fifty-one of 89 American bishops, 8 mitred abbots, 8 monsignori and nearly 900 priests were present. Wm. J. Hynes welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Catholic laity of Chicago.

The following papers were read at the morning session: "The Propagation of Faith," Msgr. Joseph Freri, New York; "The Work of Holy Childhood," Very Rev. Joseph Wilms, Pittsburg; "The Mission of Colleges," Very Rev. A. E. Murke, president of the Church Extensoion society, Canada.

At the afternoon session papers were read as follows: "Church Extension," Very Rev. Francis Kelly, president of the American Church Extension society; "The Cause of the Indians," Rev. Wm. H. Ketcham, Washington; "The Work for the Negro," Rev. John F. Burke, New York; "Home Missions in the City," Richard Gannon, Chicago. Tonight a reception will be given in honor of Falconio and the visitors.

HOT TIME IN CITY COUNCIL OVER THE BALDWIN CASE

There will be war in the council chamber tonight when the special session convenes to try the question of whether H. Baldwin shall have his saloon license revoked on the ground that he has made it a disreputable place.

Baldwin must show cause why the license should not be revoked. He will be represented by Attorney E. A. Bleekman, and evidence tending to show the good character of Baldwin is expected to be introduced. It will also be the aim of the defense to show that prejudice against Baldwin exists in official circles. In case the license is revoked, which the defense expects, an appeal will be taken to circuit court.

The last trial by the council to revoke a license was that of "Nick" Birnbaum, which was successful, and sensational too. It is expected that the scene tonight will be of the same spectacular order that occurred on that occasion.

Several other matters will be brought up this evening but they will shrink into insignificance beside the more important event.

"TEDDY" PLANS A NATION WIDE TALK

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—Througt co-operation of farmers and professional interests connected with them throughout the United States in the work of the country life commission is urged and the appointment of two additional members of the commission, Charles S. Barrett of Union City, Ga., and William A. Beard of Sacramento, Cal., is announced in a letter of Pr Roosevelt to Chairman Bailey of the commission.

The president believes the success of the movement depends apon the "attitude of the people in the open country," and he suggests that the farmers be asked to hold meetings in all the school districts of the United States within the next three or four weeks. Mr. Bailey has replied, welcoming the suggestion, and adding that the matters most pertinent to the work will be presented to the farmers for discussion

METCALF TO QUIT NAVY PORTFOLIO

Truman H. Newberry at top and Victor B. Metcalf at bottom.

It has been definitely announced that Secretary of the Navy Metcalf is to leave cabinet circle on the fourth of next ... tary Metcalf is credited with a desire to get into the California senatorial canvass in a hope that he may be chosen to represent his native commonwealth in the upper house of congres. It is said that his successor will be Truman H. Newberry of Detroit, Mich., who is at present assistant secretary of the navy under Metcalf. Newberry has been a staunch Taft enthusiast for many months. He stands extremely well in naval circles and is thoroughly in love with the work in the navy bureau. It is not at all improbable that Michigan will thus furnish Mr. Taft with his secretary for the naval portfolio.

Mr. Newberry is a comparatively young man and a man of great wealth. Withal he is extremely popular and would be highly acceptable to Washington as a presidential advisor.

VON BUELOW TAKES BULL BY THE HORNS

CHANCELLOR WILL TELL KAISER FACTS "COLD TURKEY"

MUST SURRENDER POWER

If Emperor Declines to Do This Von Buelow Will Resign His Post

BERLIN, Nev. 16.—An official communication was issued at noon today by Imperial Channellor Von Buelow, that he is determined to tell the emperor "the whole bitter truth concerning the national discontent," in tomorrow's interview. The chancellor will resign unless the kaiser pledges the renunciation of some personal prerogatives and authorized the publication of a manifesto in forming Germany that henceforth the monarchial powers are limited.

The intended interview at Kiel was postponed, owing to the death of Count Huelsen-Hasseler, until tomorrow when the emperor will return here. The Mittag Zeitung today charges one of the court clique with trying to induce the emperor to declare a military dictatorship in an attempt to quell discontent by blood and iron methods.

BALLOON BLOWN TO SEA WITH OCCUPANTS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 16.—Every facility of the navy has been employed in the searnh for the balloon "America," carrying Capt. A. F. Mueller and J. H. Hutchinson, a newspaper man. When last seen, it was drifting rapidly towards the ocean at a high altitude. The America was unleashed at Chutes Park Sunday afternoon in an attempt to establish a long distance record across the continent. The balloon "United States," piloted by Horace B. Wild, was not released owing to a contrary wind and foggy atmosphere.

The balloon America landed at Hermoso beach, 8 miles from here, after a terrific battle with adverse winds.

ROOT SAYS HE WILL ACCEPT THE TOGA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — Elihu Root authorized the following statement today:

"I think the republicans of New York who have expressed a wish for my election as senator, are entitled to a definite statement of my position. I am not seeking the office. I do not think that a great office ought to belong to any one because he wants it, but if the legislature of New York, representing the people of the state, feels that I can render useful service for that state and the country in the senate, and call upon me to render that service, I shall respond to their call and accept the office."

HIS SWEETHEART IN PAULIST HOME

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The authorities today received a telegram from the Oakland, Cal., police, requesting a positive identification of Edna Clark, who disappeared two weeks ago. She is the alleged sweetheart of Father Young of the Episcopal church. The authorities replied that there is no doubt of the identity. The matron of the Paulist Home declared that Edna was working today as usual, and expressed no desire to leave after her identity was discovered. The police were notified today that Edna's mother is enroute to Chicago too take the girl.

Edna declared she disappeared because her mother opposed her intention of becoming a Catholic and that she hoped to lose herself in Chicago and become a Catholic. Influential Catholics are endeavoring to secure Edna a position as drawing teacher in the public schools. She declares she will remain in Chicago. Her mother is a High Episcopalian and could not consent to her daughter's change of faith. She declares her relations with Young were proper.

PEKIN, Nov. 16.—Was Tsze Hsi An, dowager empress of China, murdered to prevent an internal conflict in China over the accession to the throne?

The autocratic woman who has reigned without yielding to dictation since 1861, died at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. So timely was her demise, following the death of the emperor Friday or Saturday, that the tongue of gossip is heard in high political circles, and foreign diplomats shrug their shoulders suggestively.

The official statement of the death of the emperor gives the time as 5 o'clock p. m. Saturday, and that of the empress is officially given at 2 o'clock p. m. Sunday, but it is believed that in each case death came at an earlier hour, perhaps close together.

The possible motive for the sudden removal of the dowager empress is to prevent a clash between her and those desiring to seat the legal heir upon the throne she has dominated so exclusively these many years. It is even hinted that the whole change in dynasty was pre-arranged,

MURDER DISCUSSED.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The belief of many members of the British foreign office, that Tzu Hsi, the dowager empress of China, died as the result of foul play, is strengthened by the fact that her death came at the right moment to prevent serious discords arising over the successorship. The death of the dowager which was announced to have occurred at 2 yesterday afternoon, removes a great danger, the foreign office here declares, as she is the only person likely to resist the new regime in an effort to retain her hold on the throne.

"Its timeliness makes her death suspicious," said a high official here, discussing the matter. "The contention that both she and the emperor died of slow poison will probably never be really investigated."

Discloses Restorative Recipe for Men

Amidst wine, cigars, jest and laughter in a recent club gathering of some of New York's most exclusive circles, the conversation was turned to the subject serious by one of the rollickers asking a famous medical practitioner, who was present, what the most serious disease he had to contend with was. Being a specialist in the treatment of nervous and wasting diseases, he replied, Lost Vigor and power of personal magnetism in men. It is a greater detriment to health, happiness and success than any other affliction. He claims that thousands of men are groping for help, that thousands are but mental and physical wrecks, without vitality or the power to do things, the power to begin and execute, the power of magnetism that gives the spark to life and lights the pathway of success. The very knowledge of their own weaknesses, its humiliating nature and distrust lead the poor victim to keep his secret. Knowing these things so well, he recently consented to the publication of this original prescription. It can be mixed at home secretly, which is desirable for sensitive men

EAST TRIUMPHS OVER WEST AGAIN

PENNSY DEFEATS MICHIGAN 29 TO 0

CHICAGO TIES CORNELL 6 TO 6

Maroons Come Back Gamely and Score Touchdown When Defeat Seems a Certainty

The east has triumphed over the west again. Although Chicago held Cornell to a 6 to 6 tie the defeat of Michigan, who went down under an avalanche of scores to Pennsylvania, does not leave much room for doubt as to whether the east is better than the west. This is true in the new style of football. There is not a doubt in the minds of the Michigan followers, who sat as in a daze, and watched the mighty team from Pennsylvania trample her heroes under foot, that in the old style game, with those undefeated heroes of Michigan's famous championship team, that the west could have defeated the east. This year's team had but one veteran, Schutz, and he played a wonderful game. Alas, it had no Hestons or Curtises to balance up the team, so they were defeated. This is the frank excuse of the Michigan rooters and it seems to be a good one.

Chicago by tying Cornell, can be placed in a class with the eastern teams, but not in the first division with Yale and Harvard, as these teams are, evidently superior to the Maroons, as they are to Cornell. Cornell showed that it was not as adept in the new style of football, as the western team and Chicago's open style of play is al that saved it from defeat. The Wisconsin team watched the game from the side lines and got a glimpse of Stagg's greatest plays, for Stagg had to expose his most treasured tricks in order to win the game. If Wisconsin can develop a defense against the forward pass, as Pennsylvania did against the forward passes that Michigan tried, they will win the game, but not one expects the Badgers to develop a defense like the Quaker veterans have. The Badgers will put up a fight that will be type of gameness that have made them feared for years, that has made the game with Wisconsin of championship caliber for many years. The comparative weight and strength make the contest one of great anticipation.

LA CROSSE WINS AN EASY VICTORY

LOCAL TEAM WORSTS EAU CLAIRE BOYS SATURDAY

PLAY BARABOO ON SATURDAY

Meet Fast High School in Baraboo Then Effort Will Center on Winning Thanksgiving Game

Playing on a slippery field which made fast work impossible the La Crosse high school football team was victorious over the fast Eau Claire aggregation Saturday afternoon. Neither side put up the game of which it was capable but nevertheless the La Crosse boys were easily superior in all departments of the game except punting. Holbrook the punter on the home team was out of the game and Roddy was called on to execute the punts. The work of the La Crosse line was a surprise as it was supposedly weak. Never was the Eau Claire aggregation able to gain their distance on straight football the few times which they were able to gain, being on a trick play.

Coach Cooper was well satisfied with the result considering the patched line-up that the high team presented. La Crosse stands an excellent chance of defeating Sparta at Thanksgiving. The La Crosse boys will be put through stiff scrimmage every evening next week in preparation for the Baraboo game which takes place next Saturday at Baraboo, and from then on the team will concentrate their entire efforts toward their winning the Thanksgiving game.

Following is the play in detail of the game Saturday:

ENGLISH LORD SAYS FOOTBALL IS SLOW

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Lord Northcliffe, the English newspaper and magazine owner, was a spectator at the Yale-Princeton game Saturday and last night made this comment on the American game:

"I had never seen anything antiquated in the United States until I saw this football match. To my surprise I found that the Yale and Princeton teams were playing Rugby school football with its tiresome scrimmages, which outwearied the British public many years ago. The men play all brilliantly. In fact I don't remember having seen Rugby football played better. But it was the old style game with all its tiresome delays.

"The American people are hustlers. If they wish to keep up their reputation among the sportsmen of the world I would advise them to play an up to date game."

SPORTING BRIEFS

BLOOMINGTON—Coach Jimmy Sheldon, the idol of the Indiana team, has declared that he will leave the University to practice law in Chicago. Sheldon has coached Indiana four years and has placed them among the best western teams.

LOUISVILLE—Dunleavy, the fast fielder of the St. Paul team, has been secured by the Louisville team for next year. Dunleavy is a former member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

NEW YORK—Pauxitis, the star end of the University of Pennsylvania's football team will probably become a Highlander next season. Pauxitis has been declared ineligible as a football player on account of playing professional baseball.

PHILADELPHIA—Mike Balenti, the crack drop kicker, may join the Quaker team next season and play ball under Connie Mack's teaching. Balenti is a crack ball player and will probably make good with the Quakers.

Made of Forest Roots

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion and torpid liver yield to its curative action.

The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements is as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper. Don't accept secret nostrums as substitutes for these medicines OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

AN APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC

We do not continue to appeal to the people of this city to attend the mass-meeting at the theater Wednesday evening because we believe they are not convinced that the purpose is a lofty and practical one. We believe they appreciate this, and wish the park commission every success, convinced that in supporting the park program they will be doing a patriotic duty.

But we have an object in "harping on" this subject. It is to impress upon the people the date of the meeting, and to urge them not in a moment of forgetfulness to make conflicting engagements. In the hurry and rush of things social and commercial, there is a chance for many people to so arrange their affairs that to attend the meeting will be impossible, or at least embarrassing. We hope by incessant hammering to prevent the creation of conditions fatal to the fullest possible attendance.

There are a few people, no doubt, who are sometimes inclined to refrain from exerting themselves in a cause the righteousness of which they appreciate, and for which they would do much. Such people, cosily ensconced at home or otherwise engaged, sometimes permit love of ease to suggest the thought:

"What's the use of my going? I am in favor of parks, and the commission can depend on me. As long as I do not need to be converted, I may as well stay here and take it easy, or indulge in some enjoyable pastime."

Please don't do it. This meeting DOES need you. Its greatest value is in the massing of our best citizenship behind this project. You can't get into the spirit of the movement by proxy. It can't be imagined, it must be experienced.

The park commissioners have been doing a lot of earnest work for La Crosse. They are not consulting their convenience and comfort, they are working, doing things, making progress. They have not pestered you with the little details and worries of their endeavors. These things they have encountered alone, gladly assuming the burdens that come with public achievement. Now they ask of you one thing. It is this:

That you spend one evening with them, hearing about the work and the plans and the hopes for the future, entering with them into the spirit of a wise and patriotic undertaking.

The Tribune believes you will respond earnestly and enthusiastically to this call, that you will gladly make this contribution to a work the benefits of which are to be enjoyed by all the succeeding generations that dwell in the city of La Crosse.

The Wonderful Airship in "Three Twins," La Crosse Theatre, Tomorrow night.

A PSYCHOLOGICAL CRIME

The attempted assassination of Prosecutor Heney at San Francisco is not much of a surprise. He has dealt a severe blow to graft, and has incurred the hostility of the most detestable element in our citizenship. Those whom he has castigated are thugs and thieves, and that they have resorted to the methods of their craft is but the natural outcome of their resentment of Heney's great crusade for the restoration of the law in California.

There is but one thing that keeps men of the character of Heney's assailant, and their "business" and political associates, from resorting to murder. That is the fear of consequences. Save their precious lives and liberty, and they would do a hundred brutal murders in 'Frisco today. They have been working their courage up to this deed for two years, and have at last held death on high as a specticle to intimidate the officers of the law.

But they were disappointed. There arose in the western metropolis a great cry for vengeance. A suddenly united public sprang up to assert the reign of justice. Able lawyers volunteered to take the place of Heney to prosecute Reuf and the grafters. Instead of scaring the people, they aroused against themselves a mighty army under the banner of civic righteousness, and now they cower in fear, slinking in darkness, groveling before the anger of an outraged people.

That Haas, in the despair which followed the discovery of the giant he had loosened for his own destruction, took his own miserable life, should not end this ugly affair. Others besides this bestial agent of organized crime are responsible. The allies of Reuf and Schmitz, if the truth be known, are his associates. Whether there existed a definite conspiracy to do this particular deed at this exact time does not matter. They encouraged the assassination. Their whole attitude makes them a party to it and accountable for its consequences. The law should exact the fullest retribution, unmellowed by mercy, for no mercy was shown and none is deserved.

The Milwaukee Sentinel joins the cry for a "change" in our state insurance laws. This comes in the regular course of things, the preliminary having been the defeat of Speaker Ekern.

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WILES

A Clean Slate.

Great Scott!" said the doctor to his servant. "Hs nobody called during my two days' absence? I left this slate here for callers to write their names on, and it is perfectly clean."

"Oh, yes sir," responded the servant, cheefully, "a lot of folks has come. An' the slate got so full of names that only this mornin' I had to rub 'em all out to make room for more."—Cleveland Leader.

His Reputation.

Oh, yes, he's an extra high roller,
His hours are unusually late.
And that is the way
The neighbors all say
He's a kind of a roller skate.
—New York Evening Sun.

Extemporaneous.

A young lawyer was invited to deliver an oration on the occasion of the dedication of a new bridge. He did not prepare himself, but had an idea that he could speak at a moment's notice. He arose on the platform and commenced as follows:

"Five and forty years ago this bridge built by our enterprise was part and parcel of the howling wilderness." He paused for a moment. "Yes, fellow citizens, only five and forty years ago, I repeat, this bridge was part and parcel of the howling wilderness." Again he paused and there were cries of "Go on! go on!" He was plainly rattled, however, he went on.

"I feel it hardly necessary to repeat that this bridge five and forty years ago was part and parcel of the howling wilderness, and I will conclude by saying that I wish it was a part and parcel of a howling wilderness now."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Criticism.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the government's famous food expert, was talking at Mackinac island about impure whiskies.

"I once saw an old Kentuckian," said Dr. Wiley, "take up a glass of whisky, sniff it, set it down and shake his head sadly.

"'One thing,' he said, 'was never seen coming through the rye, and that's the kind of whisky they send us nowadays.'"—Washington Star.

Immortal Bill.

A Philadelphian on his return from Berlin talked at the Philadelphia club about Kaiser Wilhelm.

"You know the kaiser's ballet of 'Stardanapalus?'" he said. "Well, this ballet made a success, and in its honor the kaiser gave a dinner.

"Berlin is laughing over an incident of the dinner. It setms that one of the speakers said in the course of his speech:

"'This ballet teaches us a powerful lesson. It shows us that we cannot escape our fate. As the immortal William once said, 'There's a divinity that shapes our ends, roughhew them as we may.' And so—'

"The kaiser applauded thunderously.

"'That is clever, very clever,' he cried. 'But when did I say it? I've quite forgotten.'"—Washington Star.

In Strict Seclusion.

Here is the extract from the prospectus of a hotel in Switzerland:

"Weissbach is the favorite place of resort for those who are fond of solitude. Persons in search of solitude are, in fact, constantly flocking here from the four quarters of the globe."—London Telegraph.

The Wily Strong Man

Dr. L. G. Broughton, the noted minister of Atlanta conducts—in Atlanta's huge Baptist Tabernacle—a church that is also a college, a club, hospital and a hotel.

Dr. Broughton, before he sailed for Europe, explained to a reporter the business management of his great church. In the midst of his explanation, fearing that the reporter found the subject dry, he told a story about a strong man.

"Our business management is very good," said Dr. Broughton. "Xerxes, the strong man, had he worked with us, would have remained Xerxes to the end.

"This herculean fellow, you must know, was engaged by a circus manager for a southern tour last fall. The tour began, and for a while all went well. Then a bad district was struck, and for days the circus drew only a handful of southerners.

"When payday came the poor manager found himself in great difficulties. It was with a heavy heart that, from the ticket wagon window, he looked out at the long line of performers and helpers waiting to be paid. Then, with a sigh, he began to pay off, in alphabetical order, Adams, Brown, Crawford, Davis, and so on.

"Alas, by the time Perry was reached the money was all gone, and the tour broke up then and there in great confusion.

"But the manager was resourceful and plucky. A month later, with fresh capital, he was ready to start out again. And being singularly honest, he tried to re-engage all those who on the former tour had not been paid. In this he succeeded. Xerxes, the strong man, was one of the first performers to enroll.

"When the manager saw Xerxes he was delighted.

"'My dear fellow,' he cried, 'it's good for sore eyes to see you again.'

"And he shook Xerxes by the hand and got out the registry book.

"'Xerxes—,' so he began to enter the name, but the strong man interrupted.

"'Xerxes be hanged,' said he. 'My name is Apax now,'"—Washington Star.

A HOME RECIPE

That Will Relieve All Sufferers from Stomach Troubles.

More stomachs get out of order than any other organ in the human body. More people dose for stomach troubles than any other disease. No better evidence is wanted than the fact that there are more patent medicines on the market for stomach troubles than for any other diseaese. If your stomach is out of gear, if your digestion is off, don't dope with these patent nostrums but go to your druggist and get the following simple prescription filled:

Compound Tincture of Cinchona, one ounce; Prosene Compound, one ounce, and Sherry Wine, half a pint. Mix these together and take one teaspoonful in a wine glass full of water before meals and at bed time.

This simple prescription has been known to work wonders. The Prosene Compound increases the secretions of the Gastric Juices and acts as a general tonic along with the Compound Tincture of Cinchona.

IMPORTANT COURT DECISIONS

RESTRAINING PUBLICATION OF PHOTOGRAPH.—In construing the statute prohibiting the use for advertising purposes of the portrait or picture of any living person without first having obtained his written consent, or, if the person be a minor, the consent of the parent or guardian, the New York Supreme Court at Special Term, in Wyatt v. Wanamaker, 110 New York Supplement, 990, where a minor asked for damages and an injunction for using her name, held it no defense that the original of the picture gave the defendant the right to sell or otherwise use copies of it, even where the consideration was a reduction in price, as minors cannot evade the plain provisions of the statute requiring written permission from the parent or guardian.

BETRAYING SECRETS.

(Milwaukee Journal.)

We find the following sensational paragraph in one of our esteemed morning contemporaries today:

"On the subject of a legislative investigation of primary expenses, Mr. Twesme said that he was opposed to the legislature going into that, as he could not see what good it would do."

This is what newspaper men call a "scoop," but it is evidently a betrayal of confidence. It was certainly not intended that such a secret should get out. We presume it will be justified on the ground that all is fair in politics or love, or was it war? In the light of the fact we don't see why we should longer keep a political secret that is just as sensational as the one we have quoted. The Honorable Isaac Stephenson of Marinette is opposed to a legislative investigation of primary expenses and cannot see what good it will do.

THE AMERICAN WOMAN

(New York Evening Post.)

Who shall say which is the true American woman, the housekeeper of the Kansas farm, of the Tennessee mountain cabin or of the city flat? There is no composite of the American woman, who is least of all to be studied on Fifth avenue or Newport or to be judged by the "stories" about her in the illustrated Sunday supplements. That she has her faults, wherever she be is perfectly obvious, since she is but human. We are inclined to think that a serious and careful student would find the educated American woman less interested in political and social questions than her sisters abroad. Bnt, one the other hand, if there is narrowness along these lines, where is her equal for charitable work? Where any others who merit such praise for maintaining the artistic and the refining influences of the home?

WHENCE PIE?

(New York Tribune.)

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of Piers the Plowman, and it may be that in his dinner pail could have been found the precedent which Michael of Pittsburg, now of the hospital, sought to follow. Those who are surprised, after being led to believe that New England is the habitat of the article, to learn that pie is an old English institution can easily accept the further statement that "planted on American soil it forthwith ran rampant and burst forth into an untold variety of genera and species." Like the Irish potato, which is said to have originated in the new world, it has been so ingrafted into the life of its adopted country that it seems more like a native than an alien.

THE TURN OF THE TIDE

By Horace Annesley Vachell

[Copyrighted, 1908.]

The lover raved on, weaving fancies light as the tobacco smoke that floated above his head. Ideals and enthusiasms, flared, revealing an ignorance and inexperience of women that at any other time might have provoked smiles from a man of the world. Hugo smoked his pipe. Again and again he told himself that this was the real thing: admittedly so rare, and no more to be confounded with the sexual attraction of man for maid, than the loves of the angels with the matings of animals. The greater thing, the supreme spiritual affinity, included the physical one, of course, purging it of all grossness, and so amazing, so transcendant is the power of the spirit over flesh, that this glowing, radiant youth was able to transport his listener to that empyrean wherein he seemed to float so serenely.

Finally this memoriable evening came to an end. The men went to bed, but Hugo, within half an hour, had occasion to speak to Burgess. He found the hope of the New Brooms fast asleep and smiling. Hugo did not wake him, but watched him for more than a minute, wondering if Joy were also asleep and dreaming of her lover. They were so sure of each other!

The beauty of the face in repose moved him profoundly. He found himself wondering what it would feel like to have such a son. He had never been sensible of paternal emotion before. It exorcised the demon of jealousy, substituting a vague sadness entirely impersonal, because he remembered that Burgess's mother was dead. She had adored him. How unwillingly she must have left him! And more than once the young fellow had spoken of an inspiring influence from without: some kindly guardian angel, so to speak, who quite unexpectedly seemed to place winged words in his mouth, or to guide his pen.

Hugo returned to his room to pass a wretched night. Those "fateful shadows," his own acts, hovered about his bed, he wandered with them up and down those slums of sleep, where oblivion seems so inacsibly near; the much sought happiness just beyond our reach. He had always done what he pleased. But the man who does what he pleases is seldom pleased with what he does.

XVII.

Hugo went shooting the next day. January was drawing to a close, and with it the shooting season. To an observing eye the first signs of spring were beginning to show themselves: almost imperceptible gradations of warmer tint might be seen upon the willows and beeches. Tom Henbest trudged beside his master, but generally just out of sight, being a true descendant of a race of poachers and smugglers, with an inherited instinct to place a bush or a tree between himself and the quality. Hugo had come to know Tom well. The honest fellow had only one weakness, strong ale; and if he tippled too often it must not be forgotten that a slatternly, ill-tempered wife, with a tongue like a file, was always awaiting him when he returned to his tiny cottage after a long day's work. In a moment of expansion Tom had admitted that it was "a tarr'ble job to keep his hands off she!" But, apparently, he had done so: submitting patiently to everlasting tantrums. Two of his children were ailing. Tisdale had told Hugo, about the time of the outbreak of diphtheria, that the humbler foresters held tenaciously to certain nostrums. Mrs. Henbest believed that virtue lay in acorns and a paste of raw flour and water. The effect of this upon an anaemic, dyspeptic girl of sixteen might well have undermined faith in such remedies, but she went on collecting mast, and still administered her paste as regularly as Mrs. Speers served out brimstone and treacle to the urchins of Dotheboys Hall!

Hugo found his mind dwelling upon the Henbests (and what they represented: so many cubic yards of ignorance and misery), and the lovers, now engaged to play at a game even more serious than golf. Spring sparkled in their veins, too. A hole upon the golf-course had been aptly named Sunny Bushes. When the sun shone—and it was shining today—one could always find a warm bank which invited the weary golfer to sit down and smoke a cigarette, mediating awhile upon the triumphs and disappointments of the round. Hugo was ready to lay long odds that Burgess would select this sheltered spot for the declaration of his passion. From it might be obtained a view of a delectable landscape, panoramic in extent, stretching on and on till it melted and vanished in the distant sea. The future life of the lovers presented quite as enchanting a prospect.

Plunging through a snipe bog in which the snipe were absent, up to his ankles in black, evil-smelling mud, with the ever-increasing chance of floundering deeper and deeper, Tom Henbest symbolized the reverse of life's medal.

The sport was so bad that Hugo returned home early in the afternoon. He went at once to his room to change. But he had hardly closed the door before Burgess burst in, wild with misery.

He had made an appalling mistake!

The wise reader will have anticipated this. We shall not, therefore, dwell upon the obvious cause of it, but proceed at once to the less obvious effect. Joy's love for the young fellow had been essentially a maternal sentiment; perhaps it would remain so to the end. That, however, had not been made quite clear to the ardent lover.

It seemed incredible that such should fail to evoke a response.

Upon this point, though sorely puzzled, Hugo was inclined to agree with him. Burgess's tale of disaster confounded him, because he had been as confident as the youth that the primrose path led straight and shining to the altar. Could Tisdale—?

Tisdale. Burgess exploded. Tisdale was no more to be considered than Tommy Bungay or Jimmie Pundle: callow youths with absolutely nothing in their nice-looking pates but the determination to hunt six days a week, by Jove; and stroll over to the Kennels on Sunday afternoon and have a squint at the hounds! And any fellow with an ounce of intelligence could take his oath that Joy Vennable would never fall in love with a Bungay.

When he had proved this to his own satisfaction Burgess paused. Why did Burgess assume so violently that he had been supplanted With a certain embarrassment confession was made. The furious youth had extracted, perhaps with brutality, the unqualified admission. Hope had been denied to him categorically, because there was—another.

At this point Burgess broke down. It has been said that he was not effeminate, but the feminism in his character and temperament had been manifested to Hugo within an hour of their first meeting. Once before Charteris had been confronted with a similar emergency. Poor young Tressilian had eaten his leek with tears which Hugo had tried to staunch with words abominably trite and unavailing. Tressilian's passion, it is true, had been of a scarlet complexion, tainted from the first. This other was the pure white flame.

Hugo laid a kind hand upon the bent head and waited. Something in his touch may have calmed Burgess, for presently he said. "Something has happened while I've been away. You must know whom she's met in the last two months, what outsider, I mean."

"She has met nobody, not a soul."

There was a long pause. Burgess stared steadily into eyes that met his as steadily. And then illumination came suddenly, with blinding glare.

"By God, you're the man!"

More P. & G. Naphtha Soap is used in summer than at any other time of year.

That is to be expected.

So she buys a few cakes of P. & G. Naphtha Soap and is happy.

Please remember, however, that P. & G. Naphtha Soap does just as good work in January as in July.

It makes clothes as clean in December as in June; and it saves time, labor and fuel in the middle of winter as well as in the middle of summer. P. & G. Naphtha Soap is an all-the-year-round soap. The sooner you realize that, the better.

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN A SLOUGH

WEAK ICE NEARLY CLAIMS ETHEL MANSTEND

UNKNOWN MAN RESCUES HER

Swims in Icy Water to the Place Where She Sank and Tows Exhausted Girl to Safety

Little Miss Ethel Manstend, of this city, nearly met death in a slough adjacent to Black river yesterday afternoon when the thin ice over which she was skating with a number of her little girl friends gave way. An unknown man swam through the icy waters and clutching the girl by the hair towed her to shore.

Miss Manstend, together with a number of her friends, had gone across Black river for the "first skatin'." They had proceeded but a short way, Miss Manstend leading, when her companions were horrified to see her go through a weak spot and sink from view in the icy waters.

Their cries for help attracted the attention of a fisherman who immediately started for the spot where she sank. The ice being very thin, he was forced to swim and was at the scene of the accident just as the girl's head bobbed above the water. He clutched her by the hair and towed her to land and then, without giving his name or address, left.

Beyond the shock and a slight cold sustained as a result of the cold plunge, the little girl is suffering no ill effects as a result of the accident.

The directory shows no such name as Ethel Manstend. The story was told by a little boy claiming to be the child's brother. It is likely that the family has but lately come to the city, as the boy was earnestly impressed by the incident he related, and had the appearance of honesty.

AGED COUPLE ROUTED OUT OF BED BY FIRE

HOME OF CHARLES BISHOP IS BURNED SUNDAY

CARRY NO INSURANCE

Lack of Faith in Modern Insurance Causes a Complete Loss to Old Couple

Charles Bishop and wife, an elderly couple residing on the corner of Wood and Hayes street, were routed out of their beds early Sunday morning by finding the roof of their house ablaze. The alarm was turned in and department No. 4 responded promptly. The blaze was soon under control, but not until it had burned the roof off the little one story dwelling that represented the savings of a life time. The damage amounted to about $400 and it will be a total loss for the old couple, having lost faith in the modern insurance companies carried no fire insurance on their home. The cause of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have ignited from a spark that came out of the chimney.

COAL CARS IN SAVANNA DITCH

Friday night while an extra freight train was noming north over the Burlington from Davenport a bad accident happened at the "Shoo Fly" tower three miles south of Savanna. The train was running at a high speed when it run upon a broken rail at the tower and the engine and fifteen loads of coal left the track.. The engine and seven cars were not overturned but the remaining eight were ditched and badly wrecked. Trafic was delayed until early this morning and the "Q" trains were compelled to runu over the Milwaukee tracks.

This was a very lucky accident that no one was injured.

If the engine had been ditched the chances are that the enginemen would have been seriously hurt.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR
From A Home-Made Tonic.

Every woman desires beautiful hair and a good tonic is just as much a necessary adjunct to the toilet as is soap or tooth powder. But good hair tonics are expensive. Here is a recipe for a home-made preparation that will give as good or better results than the highest priced ready-made tonics. Mix half a pint of alcohol with half a pint of water, add an ounce of Beta Quinol. Simply shake well together and your tonic is ready for use, If you prefer you can use a pint of imported bay rum instead of the alcohol and water. Beta Quinol used daily will give vitality, health and attractiveness to the hair. Any woman who appreciates the value of luxuriant, soft and glossy hair cannot afford to be without this almost magical quinine hair tonic. Any druggist will sell you the Beta Quinol and alcohol or bay rum.

FIRST SIGNS ARE IN THE BACK

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here; also bladder trouble and rheumatism.

An authority once stated that pain in the back, loins or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature hangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no strongly alcoholic medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, harmless and inexpensive, is known and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bed time.

This preparation is said to restore the natural function of the kidneys, so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, purifying it and relieving rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful, frequent and other urinary difficulties.

This is worth trying and may prove just what many people here need.

"Q" ROADMASTER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

While making an inspection of the Burlington railroad tracks near Denrock Wednesday afternoon, A. J. De Solond, the roadmaster of the C. B. & Q. between here and Davenport, was seriously injured.

He was riding on a handcar that was being pumped by a section crew and was going at a high rate of speed, when it suddenly jumped the track and rolled down a steep embankment. Mr. De Solond who was riding on the side of the car, was thrown quite a distance, and when picked up he was unconscious. The other members of the crew while not seriously injured were badly bruised.

The injured man was placed on the handcar and taken to the home of the section foreman at Erie and a physician called. Upon examination it was found that he had sustained concussion of the brain and had received minor bruises.

The best way not to spend your money foolishly, is not to have it to spend.

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION AT ROME

The recent international riding competition at Rome brought out some remarkable features in hazard riding. Captain Manlandi was one of the most successful and nervy riders and all looked upon the feat he performed in jumping his horse first to a comparatively low, narrow mound and then across a ditch to a higher mound, in which the horse had to make the second jump from a standing start, as one of the most remarkable jumps ever performed.

START PLATFORM AT N. S. DEPOT

Work was begun on the new double platform at the North side Milwaukee depot. The work on the double track has been completed and there is now an east and west bound track on the south side. A large platform is being built on both sides of the new track, making it possible for tow trains to be at the depot at one time.

"Hamma, this must be a way station," remarked a little boy, as he saw the scales on the railroad platform.

CARTER LINGERIE WILL GO ON BLOCK

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Nightcaps of pink and blue silk and lace, with bows and rosettes of baby ribbon to match, corset covers of lavender, blue, pink, orange, and white silk and of all lace, twenty-two pairs of silk stockings in green, blue, white, and black, besides other bits of lingerie, lawn, linen, and lace, were sold at the Fifth avenue auction rooms to satisfy the ungallant creditors of Mrs. Carter.

This was the second sale of personal belongings of the auburn haired actress who grew into fame under the impulsive Devid Belasco, but whose career has been dimmed since her marriage to a man two-thirds her age led Belasco to sever relations with her. The first sale of household furniture, automobiles, etc., took place several months ago.

In the second offering there were suits of silken underwear so sheer and fine that they can be crumpled into a handful the size of a golf ball.

There were also petticoats of silk and of lace, nightgowns, morning gowns, lounging robes, matinees—in fact, every article of wearing apparel necessary to the comfort of a woman of extreme luxury are listed.

There were a score of dresses, including the polka dot foulard Mrs. Carter was wearing one July afternoon in 1906 when the whim seized her to marry William H. Payne at Portsmouth, N. H. Mrs. Carter, her son, and Payne were on an auto trip through New England at the time, and Mrs. Carter did not bother to change her gown when the nuptial idea took possession of her.

Shoes to Go With Stockings.

There were a pair of shoes and slippers for every pair of stockings. One pair of black patent leather with white uppers is eighteen inches high, fastening with black buttons as big as dimes. Gold heels, red heels, and undressed uppers in assorted colors of leather are among the shoes auctioned off.

Mrs. Carter is rather slender and that fact may account for the blue silk hip pads which were among her possessions.

It is explained it was not fear of catching cold that led Mrs. Carter to own night caps. It was to preserve her coiffure into a second or third day, true enough, but no sordid motives of economy actuated the actress—she simply wanted to avoid trouble.

Veils, belts, shirtwaists, mink furs, remnants of silk, satin, and lace, gilt braid, guimpes, lace yokes, feather fans, a lot of jewelry were in the 100 odd lots that the auctioneer held up to a roomful of eager women who bid lavishly for them.

Poor Tools And A Good Worker

That Is What Makes Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Taste, Foul Breath And Catarrh.

The stomach is a good strong vital organ, which is constantly protecting and feeding every other organ of the body.

It is the most abused, neglected and scorned member of man also. Most men abuse their stomach with under-cooked food, high living, alcohol, tobacco, pastries and scores of other unhealthy practices.

When the stomach at last sickens of all this abuse and cannot do its full duty, most men are not warned but keep up their assaults on the stomach until at last it rebels and begins to strike back and cry for help. Man by his own abuse has taken away from the stomach the tools to work with.

These tools are the gastric juices which go to make up the digestive agents. From 7 to 35 lbs. of gastric juice are turned into the stomach every day.

When poor, poisonous food consumes this juice, dilutes it, robs it of its strength and throws it, a fermented mass from the system, of course there is just that much of the gastric fluid which cannot be readily supplied by the blood.

When food comes into a stomach filled with depleted fluids lacking of power to do their part, the good strong stomach is using poor tools and, of course, cannot succeed in its work.

A condition which often prevails is that which takes place when the gastric juice contains too much alkali. If the juice were wholly alkaline it would not only devour and digest the fluid but would eat and digest the stomach itself. Such gastric fluid does the digestion no good and attacks the walls of the stomach making them raw and sore and setting up inflammation and irritation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will strengthen a stomach filled with poor gastric juice. They will remove any abnormal alkaline condition, allay irritation, sweeten the breath, remove catarrhal conditions and digest food no matter how the stomach has acted before.

These little tablets contain an ingredient, one grain of which will digest perfectly 3,000 grains of food. They will digest an entire meal placed in a jar without the aid of any other force except themselves. They have demonstrated this time after time.

Every druggist carries them in stock; price 50c, and 40,000 physicians use them in their practice. Send us your name and address and we will mail you at once a trial package free. Address, F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP

Many Explanations of Baldness Have Been Advanced. The Most Correct Is That of Microbes.

The term "microbe" refers to a parasitic plant or fungi also called bacteria. A microbe is so small that it can only be detected by the aid of a microscope. Some microbes are harmless, while others produce various diseases, and derive their titles through the form of their growth or because of the diseases they create, which diseases are infectious or contagious.

Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabourand, the leading dermatologist of France, discovered that a microbe caused baldness, and their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on through the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the Sebum, which is the natural hair oil, and if permitted to flourish, it destroys the hair follicles, and in time the pores entirely close and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the hair growth being revived.

Dandruff is a contagious disease which a microbe causes, and later produces itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Dandruff is caused by the microbe diseasing the sebaceous matter, which dries up and scales off. Sometimes the cuticle surrounding the hair allows the natural oil of the hair to force its way between the flakes of scarf skin direct to the hair, and the microbe being between the flakes force them apart and they scale off as dandruff.

We have a remedy which positively will remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp, tighten and revitalize the hair roots, grow hair and cure baldness. We back up this statement on our personal guarantee that this remedy, which is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we promise. It will also restore gray and faded hair to its original rich, glossy color, if loss of color has been caused by disease, yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment into the hair cells.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely free from grease or sediment, is exceedingly pleasant to use, and will not gum the hair or soil the clothing or pillows.

We want everyone troubled with hair or scalp ailments, even though they are bald in spots, to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our guarantee. We exact no obligations or promises, and simply ask you to give it a thorough trial, and if not satisfied, tell us, and we will refund the money paid us. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. O. T. Erhart, 431, Main Street.

BOLD BANK ROBBER HOLDS UP SHERIFF

SHOVES BIG GUN IN MAN'S FACE WHEN CAUGHT

FORCES HIM INTO BUGGY

Leader of Yeggmen Refuses to Submit to Arrest and Springs Surprise on Appleton Sheriff

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 16. — The fourth of the Warren's bank robbers repulsed the sheriff of Appleton county when he attempted to place him under arrest near Appleton yesterday, and with a 44-calibre revolver pressed to his forehead the sheriff, who was not armed at the time, was forced to climb into his buggy and drive away without the much wanted robber, who is the leader of the gang and although the smallest member, is the most desperate.

At tht time of the attempt to make the arrest, the sheriff was driving along the road towards Appleton, and overtook the man who was walking with a companion. After taking a second look at them, the sheriff decided that the smaller of the two was the man wanted for the bank robbery, and climbing from his buggy went back to meet them. He noticed that the man wanted had his arms folded as if something was concealed under them and asked what it was. In reply he was told it was only punk to start a fire.

Believing this, the sheriff said, "I guess you had better come along with me," and made a quick grab for his hands, but the robber was quicker and whipped out a gun from under his arm, ordering the sheriff to retreat to his buggy and be gone, which the sheriff did with alacrity.

Upon arriving at Appleton a posse was quickly organized and the county round about scoured for the prisoner, without success.

The last of the gang, who is now the only member not under arrest, has a long criminal record, as also has Radley, the younger of the two, now awaiting trial in the county jail, he having twice been sent to Waupun. The other prisoner is a Frenchman, whose right name is Clairmont instead of Clement as given, while his record is unsavory he has succeeded in eluding the officers of the law until this arrest.

The death of D. S. Lawrence, one of Sparta's oldest and most highly respected citizens, occurred at his home Wednesday afternoon. Edgar Clough was painfully injured one evening last week by the accidental discharge of a revolver, which he uses in his electric theater at Reedsburg. The discharge tore away the flesh from his right cheek, and his right eye was badly burned by the powder. However, it is believed that the injuries are only temporary and that Mr. Clough will come out all right.

A barn belonging to Gus Treder was totally destroyed by fire about 9 o'clock Tuesday evening. A cow which was in the stable was asphyxiated before the firemen could get her out. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Treatment for Croup.

If your child has ever had croup, you need no description of the symptoms, but to the inexperienced, the peculiar ringing cough is often unnoticed until the disease is well under way. A child may go to bed at night in his usual health, except perhaps a cold, only to awaken a few hours later with a well developed attack of croup and the remainder of the night is spent by the anxious parents in trying to relieve his suffering, which is usually more or less experimental. It is usually difficult to secure the services of a physician in the middle of the night, and he should never be depended upon as the case must be treated at once. A bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house will save anxiety, expense and perhaps the life of the child. When this medicine is given at the first indication of croup, the attack may be avoided, and even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. We have never known it to fail to effect a cure in any case of croup, and it is, we believe, in more general use in the United States for that disease than any other remedy.

CONFER IN REGARD TO THE "OPEN DOOR"

UNCLE SAM AND JAPAN IN DIPLOMATIC EXCHANGE

NO DEMANDS WERE MADE

But Subject of Restrictions on American Trade in Manchuria Receives Attention

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—Although Roosevelt and Root deny any friction between the United States and Japan relative to the "open door" in China, and say that no request or demand has been made of Japan, it is understood that diplomatic exchanges of views on this subject have occurred during the past few days. Ambassador Takihira made several calls on Root last week and it is authoritatively stated that these conferences concerned Japan's policy in Manchuria. Numerous complaints have been made by American and other foreign merchants in Manchuria, that, while ostensibly maintaining the policy of non-interferenne with outside trade, Japanese officials are secretly favoring their own countrymen. As a result the trade of American and other foreign countries has suffered.

"BEN" LINDSEY IN "Y" POPULAR COURSE

Judge Ben Lindsey, famous the world over as the father of the juvenile court, whose spectacular victory over the bosses of Denver in the recent election in which he ran independently after being shut off the ticket because of his war on graft has become one of the most notable stories of the 1908 campaign, will deliver an address in La Crosse at a date to be set later by the Y. SPOTLIGHTS

"Paid in Full."

Ashton Stevens, in the New York Journal, had this to say on its first production of the now famous play, "Paid in Full:"

"'Paid in Full,' the newest American play by the newest American dramatist, Eugene Walter, held an audience breathless during many moments of its production at the Astor theatre last night.

"It is a straight-going play. The only thrill is humor, and most of this welcome quality springs naturally from the structure of the play and the disposition of the characters.

"Here are a play and performance absolutely representative of contemporary drama and American acting, and it is my opinion that Managers Wagenhals and Kemper will be paid in full."

"Paid in Full will be seen at the La Crosse theatre on Thursday, Nov. 19. Seats on sale tomorrow.

"Three Twins."

The "Three Twins" comes as the most highly endorsed musical comedy that has ever played here. The New York press was unanimous in its praise of this comedy for the music, electrical effects and comedy, and Mr. Ashton Stevens of the New York Journal said it was a credit to Broadway.

"Three Twins" is positively the handsomest costumed company in America. Mr. Gaites has spared no expense in the mounting of the attraction. Noticeable amongst the costumes are eight Parisian Directoire sheath gowns which are said to be the handsomest dresses of this type on the American stage, the electric effects are marvelous and the music is said to be the most fascinating ever written.

Attorneys Ach and Dozier furnished the body guards at an all-day conference at the jail yesterday.

Ask Change of Venue

Ruef's attorney moved a change of venue this morning on the ground that his life is in danger, and it is impossible to get a fair trial here. They introduced lengthy affidavits by Reuf and his attorneys. The prosecution asked for time to file answers and the trial was adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

A cordon of police guarded the door and only unarmed persons were allowed to enter the nourt room. An immense throng was outside. A railing separated the spectators from the officers of the court. A detective sat with the reporters and attorneys. Detectives sat in all parts of the court room watching every move of the spectators.

Reuf was conveyed to the jail in a patrol with nine policemen. Mounted guards held back the crowd. A demonstration wac impossible though a fsw hisses and hoots were heard.

Three Year Old on Throne.

An edict issued at 8 o'clock this morning placed upon the throne Prince Pu Yi, the 3 year old son of Prince Chun, the regent of the empire, in accordance with a promise given by the dowager empress soon after the marriage of Prince Chun in 1903. An edict issued on Friday made Pu Yi heir presumptive.

The foreign legations were notified this morning by the foreboard of the death of the emperor and the succession of Prince Pu Yi.

BAD OLD WOMAN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Chinese of Chinatown here are awaiting orders from Minister Wu before beginning a period of mourning for the empress whom they term the "bad old woman." Many expressions of sorrow were heard among the prominent Chinese over the death of the emperor, but there is little expression of regret over the death of the "bad old woman."

Troops have been in readiness for several days to quell any disorders that might arise on the death of Kuang Hsu, and the possibility of uprisings was made greater because of the fact that the death of the dowager empress was known to be close at hand. Two divisions of troops have been held and these are now stationed in various quarters of the city. Twenty gendarmes were dispatched to guard the approaches to the legations, but the duties of the forces have been slight. It was announced that the

In Mourning Three Years.

Prince Chun, the regent, has ordered the viceroys and governors to take precautions for the continuation of the administration of the provinces as heretofore, and he has ordered 100 days of mounring. The court will go into mourning for three years.

Dowager Once Slave.

Tsze Hsi An (or western empress) was born Nov. 17, 1834. She was the child of poor people who lived in Pekin. At an early age, following a common practice in China, she was sold as a slave by her parents on account of their poverty. She became the property of a famous general, who, enchanted with her great beauty, adopted her and offered her as a present to the reigning emperor, Hsien Feng. She so charmed the emperor by her looks and intelligence that he made her his secondary wife, and on her bearing him a son, the future emperor, Tung Chih, raised her to the first rank On his death she became the regent of the empire, administering the national affairs with more vigor than any of his predecessors.

Washington Notified

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—The Chinese legation today transmitted to the state department the official report of the death of empress dowager. The legation will immediately go into mourning for the emperor for 100 days, red being eliminated and blue substituted in everything connected with the le tion. Minister Rockhill reported today that Pekin is quiet.

Mr. John James returned Saturday from Milwaukee where he has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Whyte.

DESPERATE NEGRO KILLS 5 IN FIGHT

OFFICERS FALL IN ATTEMPT TO ARREST HIM

IS RIDDLED IN HIS HOME

Black Then Fires Own House and is Burned to a Cinder There

OKMULGEE, Okla., Nov. 16.—Five persons were killed and ten others wounded Sunday afternoon in a fight between Jim Deckard, a negro desperado, and law officers. The dead:

Edgar Robinson, sheriff of Okmulgee county.
Henry Klabor, assistant chief of police of Okmulgee.
Two negroes named Chapman, brothers.
Jim Deckard, negro.

The wounded:

Steve Grayson, Indian boy; fatally beaten.
Vic Farr, chief of police; shot through shoulder.
Deputy sheriff, name not learned; arm broken.
Seven others; slightly wounded.

Beat Indian Boy Insensible

The disturbance began at the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad station, where Jim Deckard engaged in a fight with an Indian boy, Steve Grayson, and beat him into insensibility with a rock. Friends of Grayson notified the police and when Policeman Klabor went to the station Dackard fled to his house, barricaded himself in and when Klabor followed him, shot him dead.

Part of the posse was made up of a group of negroes whom the sheriff commissioned as deputies. As the posse approached the house, Deckard opened fire with a rifle, firing as rapidly as he could load his weapon. The sheriff fell first, instantly killed. Then the two Chapman brothers were slain. Deckard's house was soon surrounded by a frenzied mob of armed men.

Ignites Own Home

Fire was set to a house just north of Deckard's. Volleys were poured into Deckard's house and he was shot down. He was seen to roll over on the floor, strike a match and set fire to his own house, which was soon a roaring furnace in which his body was baked. Deckard evidently had a large quantity of ammunition stored in his house for many cartridges exploded while the house was burning.

Gov. Haskell at Guthrie was notified of the battle and of the bad feeling between whites and negroes that had grown out of it, threatening a race riot. The governor at once ordered the militia company at Muskogee to prepare to go to Okmulgee and a special train was made ready to carry the troops.

NO HEIRS TO THE H. STEWART ESTATE

Who are the heirs of the estate of Henry Stewart. is bothering the local and county authorities.

Henry Stewart, a resident of Onalaska, was found one morning about four years ago lying dead on the railroad tracks at Onalaska. At the time of his death he left an estate valued at approximately $700. His wife had died previously and since then all attempts to find other heirs have proven futile.

J. M. Pierce of Onalaska was appointed administrator but up to date no one has been found who can prove their relation to the dead man and the estate will in all probability be turned into the coffers of the state.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized truth that medicines made from vegetable ingredients are a great deal better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures and compounds. Mercury, potash, arsenic, etc., which are used in the manufacture of most blood medicines, are too violent in their action, and frequently derange the system by disturbing the stomach and digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period often cause Rheumatism. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine guaranteed absolutely and purely vegetable. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying and healing qualities. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood diseases, because it cleanses and purifies the blood, and at the same time builds up the entire system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. S. S. S. may be taken by young and old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure the diseases and disorders due to an impure and poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints. BRIDGEWORKER IS BEATEN TO DEATH

DRUNKEN BRAWL AT CANNON FALLS ENDS IN MURDER

ONE OF MURDERERS IN JAIL

From Evidence it is Believed That Man Was Knocked Down and Beaten to Death

CANNON FALLS, Minn., Nov. 16.—In a drunken brawl here David Rogers, employed by the Security Bridge company of Minneapolis, was beaten to death by a gang of fellow workmen. A member of the gang is now under arrest. He refuses to give his name and the village marshal has been unable to learn it from the rest of the crew.

Rogers, who was employed with the bridge crew on a bridge three miles south of the city, came to town with several comrades and became intoxicated. A quarrel ensued in a saloon and Rogers, with the rest of the gang, went out doors to fight. The bar tender ran for the marshal, but when he returned, Davis, who had been carried back into the saloon, was dead.

No cuts were found on the body. It is thought that Davis was first knocked down and then kicked to death. The town is intensely excited and a crowd is surging about the jail.

Others of the crew were not held.

FOUR MEN HELD UP BY A LONE BANDIT

ROBBER IN DARING FEAT AT ABERDEEN, S. D.

IS FORCED INTO FIGHT

In Melee He Shoots One Man but Makes Good His Escape—Posse in Hot Pursuit

ABERDEED, S. D., Nov. 16.—If the unknown bandit who is being hunted by a posse that threatens to hang him to the nearest tree, and who held up the railway station at Bath, a town four miles east of here, can find any satisfaction in knowing that he is the author of the most daring hold up ever attempted in this section of the country, it is to be hoped that this will pay him for the manhandling he is bound to receive when the armed men who are scouring the country country and seeking him behind every tree and boulder, lay their hands on the fellow.

Town Aroused

No robbery committed here in recent years has stirred the community to such an extent as this one. The entire locality is aroused and there seems to be little chance for the fellow to finally get away.

A group of four men were idling about in the railway station at Bath about 10 o'clock waiting the arrival of the train, when the hold up genius entered the place.

He leveled his weapon at the group and ordered them to hold up their hands, which they did without a moment's delay. He then ordered the men to march into the operator's room.

Fights With Two

Two of them were about to comply, when the other two, whose names are given as Parsons and Bendicson, turned on the fellow and engaged him in a hand to hand battle.

The robber was getting the worst of it, when he suddenly fired at close range. Bendicson reeled and fell with one bullet hole in his neck and a nother through the left side of his cheek and shoulder.

As Parsons sought safty in flight and Bendicson went down, the man leaped through the station window and disappeared in the darkness.

Bendicson has been brought here, and although his condition is precarious it is believed that he has a good chance of recovering.

DISHPAN A SOCIAL FACTOR

(Denver Republican.)

The humble dishpan has been assailed with anathemas, and many clever minds are bent on finding some means of ostracizing the horrid thing from the kitchen, but the fact remains that the more shining it is from use, the more it reflects the ennobling qualities of toil.

Hardly Encouraging

John D. Rockefeller, conversing amiable with a reporter, drove home a remark on inefficiency with a golf story.

"There was a man," he said, "who had no success at golf at all. The more he played, it seemed, the poorer he became. One day his work was particularly bad.

"'Dear, dear,' he said to his caddy, as he looked ruefully at a deep hole in the turf that he had just made with his iron; 'dear, dear, there can't be worse players than myself.'

"'Well,' said the caddy, reflectively, 'maybe there's worse players, but they don't play.'"—Washington Star.

CANNOT FIND WITNESSES

Several Allegations Withdrawn by the Presecution in Case Against Ashland Lawyer

ASHLAND, Wis., Nov. 16.—The disbarment proceedings against Attornew Frank B. Lamoreux of Ashland e nded in his acquittel. There were thirteen charges of uuprofessional conduct against him, covering a range of sixteen years' practice at Stevens Point and Ashland. District Attorney Foley of Superior prosecuted the case and Mr. Lamoreux was defended by L. K. Luse of Superior and Senator Sanborn.

Satisfactory Explanation

Judge Belden of Facine, who presided in the case, in his decision today stated that the evidence presented by the prosecution as to all but three or four of the charges was such as not to require any explanation on the part of the defendant, that as to the three or four charges which he thought did require explanation the explanation of Mr. Lamoreux was entirely satisfactory and that he found nothing whatever in the conduct of the defendant subject to criticism.

DAHL SUGGESTS INDEPENDENT MOVE

torney to look after the case and be submitted to all the inconveniences and humiliations that a law suit of several days' duration, usually inflicts.

Dahl Suggests a Change.

"A hearing before the civil service commission without attorneys and with the burden of proof on the discharged employe to shoy religious or political cause, is all the protection to which he is entitled, consistent with the spirit of the law and the responsibility of the head of the department to the people for efficient service.

"Under the law appointments must be made from the three highest candidates from a list of eligibles, furnished by the civil service commission. This furnishes ample protection to the state and preserves the spirit of the law, namely, 'qualification and character,' as the basis of an appointment—not friendship or political favors."

Many Loans Are Made.

The report of the land office is made simultaneous with that of the state treasurer. This department loans large sums of money to school districts, besides caring for the sale of unoccupied lands in the state.

"The large increase in loans from trust funds to school districts during the past years has occasioned greater receipts than during any like period in the past," says the report of the land commissioners. "The aggregate for the past two years is $670,421.71 as against $476,098.32 for the biennial term ending June 30, an increase of $194,323.30 during the term. The receipts for the forestry reserve funds of $12,449.39 for trespass and for hay, etc., during the past two years, indicate that state lands are receiving better protection than ever before."

HUNTERS ATTACK MEN FOR ANIMALS

TWO ARE FIRED UPON IN WOODS NEAR CHIPPEWA FALLS

SHOT PIERCES MAN'S CAP

Another Man is Hit in Stomach When Gun is Accidentally Discharged

From the number of fatalities and accidents that have been reported since the opening of the hunting season this year, 21 men have lost their lives and 39 have been injured. Much of the accidents were due to guns accidentally exploded.

MERRILLAN, Wis., Nov. 16.—Oscar Sprague, 22 years of age, was shot in the hip while deer hunting. Descending Bruce Mound he was handing his gun down to his companion with the muzzle toward him when the hammer struck a rock, discharging the gun, the bullet lodging in his hip.

Is Taken for Deer

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Nov. 16.—George McHaffie, while in the woods near Keystone, was fired upon four times by unknown hunters, who undoubtedly mistook him for a deer. When two shots had been fired upon him he threw himself upon the ground, but when he arose two more shots were fired, one passing through his cap. McHaffie then decided to remain three hours stretched upon the ground, until dark, when he made his way home. C. F. Brenson also reports being fired upon by hunters near Riverview.

KILLS WHITE DEER; IS NEARLY SLAIN

RHINELANDER, Wis., Nov. 16.—A white deer was killed near Manitowish by Paul Van Dyke, a hunter from Duluth, Minn.

The animal had been seen around that section of the country for two years and during the hunting season of 1907 many attempts were made to shoot it.

When Mr. Van Dyke fired the shot that killed the deer he was accompanied by an Indian guide. The red skin appeared suddenly deranged and attempted to do the sportsman bodily injury. It was after a hard struggle with the guide that Mr. Van Dyke succeeded in overpowering him and keeping him subdued until the arrival of other members of the party.

After the fellow became quiet he explained in broken English to the men that the Indians regarded the killing of a white deer as an ill-omen and was fearful lest some dreadful punishment would be inflicted upon him and members of his tribe. The redskin was released and instantly disappeared into the woods.

The deer is said to be a most perfect specimen of an albino and will be mounted.

BABY HOLDUP MAN TAKEN INTO COURT

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 16.—The burglarious career of James Stapleton, aged 6, has been cut short by the Juvenile court. James started out by entering a neighbor's house and carrying off the family canary bird and selling it to another neighbor for $1. On his way home from this exploit he held up a boy twice his size and took 50 cents from him.

The neighborhood, aroused by such daring robberies, invoked the aid of the Juvenile court officials, and James was captured. He occupied a small part of the seat of a chair before Judge J. A. Caldwell.

Another witness, not quite, told of the bird robbery. James put his face up against that of the witness and snapped out: "Naw, I didn't either."

Bloodshed seemed imminent, but Judge Saldwell interfered, and for the future safety of the public James will be taken care of at the Juvenile court.

TRAPS INDIANS BY CLEVER RUSE

CRANDON, Wis., Nov. 16. — Six unsuspecting Indians were arrested by game wardens for shooting deer out of season. The warden approached them with a request to sell them some deer and agreed to pay $17 for two specimens. When the Indians had taken them to where the deer were hung up the wardens placed them under arrest. Accompanied by their squaws and pappooses the tribesmen are in jail, being unable to pay the $25 fine assessed against each.
